Two divisions at Mattapoisett Yacht Club competed in the August Senior Series last Saturday, August 18th. Jim Broadwater and Harvey Pentleton were double winners.

Sunny skies combined with a moderate 10-15 mile south wind to make an ideal sailing day.

In the first Beetle Cat race, Phil McCarthy in Wolf led at the start of the triangular course to Sunken Ledge Black Can 5, to Ned's Point MYC guide buoy and finish.

Before reaching the first marker, he was overtaken by Jim Broadwater's Agamamnon and Dave Jenney's Ariel. The contest for second place was a close one, but Ariel eventually outdistanced Wolf.

The final Beetle Cat race in the double header was, in reality, a repeat performance - Phil quickly across the line, then overtaken by Broadwater and Jenney, who from then on battled it out for the second spot. The score again was Broadwater, Jenney and McCarthy.

This time it was to Can 4, to Barstow Rock Red Nun 6, to Sunken Ledge Black Can 5, and finish.

The initial Planing Hull race saw Dave Donald with a good port tack start, well ahead of the fleet. Soon Kevin O'Leary and Harvey Pentleton began to challenge. As the gap became ever shorter, Pentleton edged past, followed by O'Leary, and so it went, in this order, to the end.

Minus one contender, the last Planing Hull contest became a match race between O'Leary and Pentleton, with the latter the victor by a margin of 25 seconds.

The first Planing Hull course was a blueprint of the one assigned to the second Beetle Cat race. The concluding course took the Planing Hulls to Can 4, to Crescent Beach MYC guide buoy, to Ned's Point MYC guide buoy and finish.

Mitey Mites Championship

YACHT CLUB HOSTS MITEY MITES

On Monday morning, August 13th, Mattapoisett Harbor was filled with white sails as Beetle Cat skippers representing 21 area and Cape yacht clubs vied for the N.E.B.C.B.A Mitey Mites championship.

Tension began to build as the six young winners of the morning races started the deciding afternoon contests. The ending was just as exciting as the whole day had been - a tie!. When it was all over, the West Dennis Yacht Club had won the coveted title. And the Angelica Yacht Club team of Scott Crowley, Stuart Warren and Ralph Eustis had placed second.

ANGELICA YACHT CLUB RACERS WIN AGAIN

Angelica Yacht Club's representatives at the New England Beetle Cat Mitey Mite Championship Races held Monday, August 13th, came thru with flying colors. Scott Crowley was the skipper with Stuart Warren as crew and Ralph Eustis, Jr. alternate crew in the annual event hosted this year by the Mattapoisett Yacht Club.

Angelica and West Dennis were tied for the top honors in the afternoon final races. The Race Committee reviewed the results of the morning elimination races when fifteen crews were eliminated leaving six clubs to race the finals. The decision was based on this review. West Dennis scored two firsts and a second in the morning, and Angelica racked up one first, one second, and a fourth. While West Dennis took first prize, Angelica won a very close second and the club is justly proud of its Mitey Mites.

Mattapoisett Grange

Mattapoisett Grange held its bi-monthly meeting last Thursday night, August 16th, with Worthy Master Mark Harris presiding.

Deputy Jethro Ashley of the Massachusetts State Grange was the honored guest.

The resignation of Master-elect Olive Gifford was read and accepted. Due to the heavy school schedule for 1974, Katherine Buckley resigned her lady assistant steward office.

The combined yard sale by the Subordinate and Junior Granges has been changed from September 1st to Saturday, September 8th. This is due to the holiday weekend.

A beautiful afghan was donated for the Mattapoisett Grange Fair by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson of Wareham.

Miss Lauren Horne who was voted into membership to the Grange at the previous meeting, received her degrees by worthy master Mark Harris.

A box of articles left over from the East Mattapoisett Friends Fair held last week was donated to the Grange Fair. This friendly gesture is greatly appreciated by the members of the Grange.

Due to the fact that the worthy master will be on his way to college at the time of the installation of the officers, Deputy Ashley presented Mark with his past master's jewel. He was assisted by Katherine Buckley and Mrs.

Dorothy Harris, who pinned the jewel on her son. Mark has had a fine career in Grange work and will be greatly missed by the members. He was also presented a book of clippings of his meetings of 1973 as well as outstanding activities during his regime by his lecturer, Mrs. Mildred LeBaron. A book of memories is nice to have.

The officers who will serve for 1974 are as follows: Mildred LeBaron, master; Olive Gifford, overseer; William Smith, steward; Phillip Barrows, assistant steward; Lauren Horne, lady assistant steward; Gladys Pearson, chaplain; Marybeth Breton, treasurer; Susan LaFleur, secretary; Ruby Barber, Flora; Edith Johansen, Pomona; William Smith, Otto Kellish and Lee Root, executive committee.

Plans for the installation will be made at a later date; also committee appointments.

Fair plans were completed and the men of the Grange will set up the booths on Thursday night, August 23rd. Members are urged to bring in articles to fill a grocery basket to be awarded at the Fair. Anyone with vegetables, flowers and canning, or anything to exhibit will be most welcome. It is the exhibits that count the most in the cooperation with the State Department, so the help from the public will be greatly appreciated. A fine supper of all kinds of food will be held Friday, August 24th, in the dining hall and the Fair itself will be held on Saturday, August 25th. So, come one, come all to the Fair at Mattapoisett Grange Hall.

BOARD MEETING

A meeting of the executive board of the Women's Community Guild of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church will be held on Tuesday, August 28th, at 10 A.M. in the Fellowship Room of the church. All members are requested to come.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

The Finance Committee met with sponsors of articles requiring appropriation of money to work out amounts to be placed on warrant articles.

REVENUE SHARING REPORT

The Mattapoisett revenue sharing report published on Page 28 of last week's issue of this paper had some people puzzled since it contained a single X. This designation is required when the town has placed the money in a special trust fund to earn interest before it has been earmarked for spending. No plans have been made to date for allocation of these funds to projects. Federal regulations allow the town to hold the funds in trust for a specified period of time and thus gain a double benefit as they earn interest.

Attention Businesses!

BUSINESSES INTERESTED IN TOURISTS:

7 P.M., August 23, 1973, at The Harbor Beach Club, Mattapoisett ...

A meeting to discuss ways and means of attracting tourists to the town from Rte.195 by way of a Food, Phone, Gas and Lodging sign.

Discussion will be based on the fact that 99% of tourists will bypass Mattapoisett businesses unless steps are taken to encourage them to seek Food, Gas, Lodgings, Gifts, and Services in this town.

CHAPTER 90 MAP

R. J. Kelleher of the State DPW sent a letter with an enclosed map to Mattapoisett Selectmen on August 13th. He asked that town officials concerned with road repair and construction be invited to study the map which shows which of Mattapoisett's roads is eligible for Chapter 90 work and what percentage of the cost the State might assume, 100% or 75%. Since the Chapter 90 set-up was changed by a recent bill signed by Governor Sargent, there has been a total lack of information on what the new Chapter 90 program is. According to Mr. Kelleher a meeting is scheduled soon to explain and review the map with local government officials and answer Chapter 90 questions.

SHUTTLE SENIORS?

Mattapoisett Selectmen received an inquiry from SRPEDD regarding the installation of a shuttle service for senior citizens in various localities. They asked for a reaction if the town is interested in this concept.

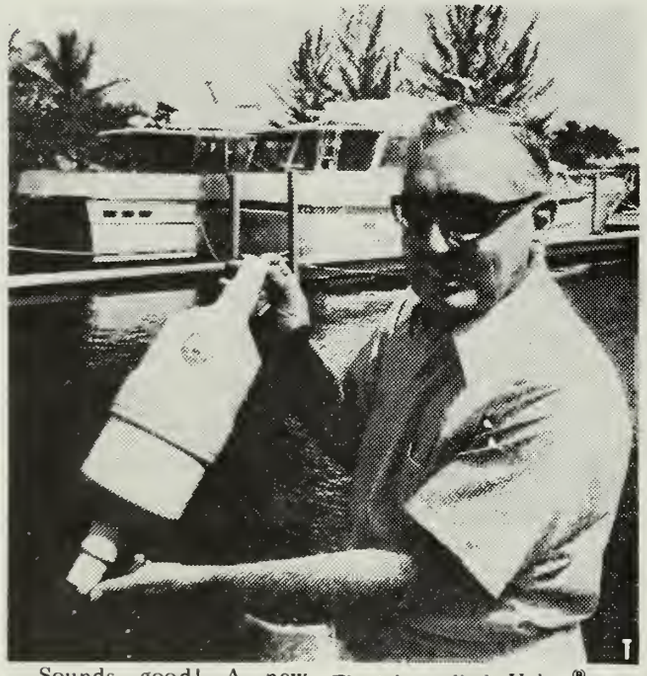
QUIET POWER



Sounds good! A new method of making mufflers accounts for power boats that make little more sound than sailboats.

Ordinarily, a 65-foot yacht gives forth 112 decibels of sound. Passengers on a cruising jet plane must listen to about 85 or 90 decibels; when the home team hits a homer, the cheers of the crowd reach about 95 to 100 decibels; and when heading home on the highway, you can hear between 100 and 110 decibels of harrowing noise. But with a new marine muffler, yachts produce only 54 decibels. If it were 23 decibels less, you wouldn't be able to hear it at all.

The muffler is made of an unusual engineering thermoplastic produced by General Electric called Valox® resin; the material offers great design freedom and excellent sound reduction. It also has high temperature tolerances, impact strength, and marvelous moldability.

Under normal circumstances, a Valox resin muffler is resistant to chemicals like carbonic and sulphuric acids, and impervious to nitrates that are known to be present in gasoline and diesel exhaust fumes.

At present, the muffler is used in marine engines of up to 35 horsepower; but the manufacturer, Marine Mufflers, Inc., is also considering Valox resin for snowmobiles, lawnmowers, and motorcycles.

During a test, a microphone was suspended behind a boat's transom and halfway between the exhausts which were only 16" apart. At 1800 rpm, the water's backwash drowned out whatever was left on the exhaust sound.

The noise pollution pitch is approaching the sink or swim stage. Muffling boat and yacht engines can help to dampen the noise level and might make for smoother sailing, ecologically speaking, in the future.

Letter to The Editor

"DISAPPOINTMENT"

The above best describes the feelings of Martin Avenue children who, on August 11 and 12, conducted a carnival to raise funds for Muscular Dystrophy.

Three weeks of hard work including advertisement in this journal resulted in literally no interest from the residents of this town outside of those few who live on Martin Avenue.

I find it appalling that so much interest is displayed about restoration of no less than an inanimate carriage shed, or that we, as parents, are solicited by our educational contingent to provide carpeting, not to mention all the other "town beggars" who continuously bang on our doors; yet no interest in a life-related activity.

Even those who preach compassion every Sunday did not seem to consider this a significant enough enterprise to spend a few

Most fund-raising in this town has been in the form of handouts - at least the children provided a form of entertainment, prizes and a yard sale.

Personally, I congratulate all the children involved and hope their youthful enthusiasm for meaningful activities, has not been dampened by this disgraceful display of apathy.

Needed: Big Brothers

The Big Brother-Sister Program of New Bedford Child & Family Service for Greater New Bedford helps children who are usually lacking one parent. They attempt to give these youngsters a measure of love, understanding and guidance that boys and girls with fathers receive as a natural part of growing up. The method of serving these youngsters is through the dedicated efforts of outstanding men and women who volunteer to serve as Big Brothers or Big Sisters, spend at least two hours a week with their youngster for a period of one year. All that is asked of the Big Brother or Sister is friendship and companionship. There is no financial commitment and the child can be involved in the Big Brother's or Sister's own family activities.

Right now, there is an urgent need for Big Brothers as there are over thirty needy boys waiting to be assigned to a Big Brother.

The concept of the Big Brother/Sister movement is based on the principle that there can be no substitute for genuine human love and kindness. Their concept contradicts that old

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE: THE HIDDEN TIME BOMB

High blood pressure is the most common of the diseases affecting the heart and blood vessels. Yet it is a silent disease, an insidious disease, which during its early stages seldom produces any symptoms perceptible to the person who has it. Thus, unless a physical examination reveals that the blood pressure is elevated, a person may have the condition for years without knowing it.

Uncontrolled high blood pressure forces the heart to work harder and may drive it into failure, causes serious damage to the kidneys, and substantially increases risk of heart attacks and strokes.

All of this can occur before the person ever becomes aware that he has the disease. An estimated 23 million Americans today have high blood pressure, at least half of whom don't know it; about 60,000 Americans die every year as a direct result of the disease.

These are tragic, unnecessary deaths because almost every case of high blood pressure, or hypertension, as it is called medically, can be controlled by a variety of effective modern drugs or combination of drugs for reducing elevated blood pressure.

The largest screening program for high blood pressure in the nation--Community Hypertension Evaluation Clinics (CHEC) -- is being sponsored cooperatively by CIBA Pharmaceutical Company and local medical and heart organizations. More than 125,000 people have been screened by CHEC programs, and 28 percent referred to their physicians.

In addition, CIBA is holding a series of seminars on hypertension for the doctor as part of its Medical Horizons Postgraduate Education Program, and has designed a program to encourage the pharmacist to remind patients to take their medication as directed.

The word on high blood pressure and the need for its early detection and control are being spread currently by the American Medical Association, American Heart Association, National Heart and Lung Institute, local and voluntary groups.

Following referrals, the doctor may confirm the presence of high blood pressure, and prescribe antihypertensive drugs, the value of which is well documented.

Most of these drugs produce few and relatively mild side effects, and while keeping the patient's blood pressure under control, seldom impede his performance on the job or interfere with his other pursuits.

The following article appeared in the Massachusetts Wildlife January-February, 1973, Division of Fisheries and Game, and was written by James M. Shepard, Director. Reprinted through the courtesy of the publication.

ANOTHER LOOK AT THE "ENERGY CRISIS"

Anyone who reads knows the United States is short on energy. Experts on the subject, and especially resident experts in the camps of certain power interests, like to refer to our predicament as the "energy crisis". But the words "shortage" and "crisis" are most definitely not synonyms, nor is the latter necessarily an advanced case of the former. Those of us who use the terms interchangeably have gamboled over a semantic Grand Canyon with a disregard for language that would shock a freshman English teacher.

The "crisis" that we talk about is the crisis of the 10-year-old who blows half his allowance on comic books and bubble gum and then unsmilingly informs his father that he has a critical need for lunch money.

One of the more disturbing symptoms of our hypocrisy -- and it is indeed our hypocrisy as no one short of a hermit can detach himself from the nation's economic structure -- is the delinquent attitude of certain power industries. With tearful pronouncements of their concern for America's welfare they outline what they are doing to stem the energy crisis. Then, speaking more from the heart, they turn around and urge increased use of their "critically scarce" commodity. Immediately after World War II, when we still knew how to brush our teeth by hand and struggled along with manual combs, we got along quite nicely with something like 40 times less energy per capita than we are told we "require" today. It would seem that our suffering is relative.

It is perhaps indicative of our national personality that we are willing only to discuss ways of getting more energy instead of ways of conserving what we have. The cold truth is that much, if not most, of our energy crisis is self-inflicted. Take a stroll through Boston after dark, if you dare, and look at the lights. Night has been displaced by a flashing neon inferno. (If you want a real shock visit New York or Las Vegas.) Is the energy that fuels that kind of fire wisely spent?

We are a nation that weeps about oil depletion over the collective roar of our two million snowmobiles and as-yet-uncounted "mudmobiles". If the oil shortage is really critical enough to justify raping our last wilderness -- which it apparently is in the eyes of the Interior Department, as that agency maintains that environmental damage must be accepted as the price for getting the oil out - then isn't it time to cut back on a few of the luxury uses of oil? And why not follow former Transportation Secretary John Volpe's farsighted advice: break up the lavish Highway Trust Fund and put the money to good use, replacing gas-swilling motor vehicles -- that presently clog and pollute our cities --- with up-to-date public transportation systems.

Late last summer a special legislative committee, headed by Senator William Bugler, D-Boston, charged that the Federal Government and the oil industry, in their eagerness to begin probing for oil along the Atlantic Seaborad, had used the oil import quota system to manufacture their own little energy crisis for New England. The panel recommended that without adequate environmental safeguards and a national energy policy Massachusetts should vigorously oppose all offshore drilling.

Our search for new energy should be calm and thorough, not a mad rush in which damage to the environment is kissed off as overhead. In short, we would be very well advised to insert the stopper before scrambling to fill the kitchen sink. Then if we find ourselves still in the red we can sit down and begin to discuss our problem rationally.

Peter P. Briggs, Brierpatch Lane, Mattapoisett, Mass.

Night September 11th, at 7:30 P.M. Any woman of man 25 years old and over, who is single, divorced, widowed or separated, can learn about joining the group by contacting the YWCA, 999-6201. Mae Bruno, chairman, reports that many people write in to various columns in the newspaper wondering how they can meet people. Single Wheels is a group organized to help single persons get to know others and enjoy themselves.

At the YWCA Coffee House this coming Friday, August 24th, from 7:30 to 9:30 P.M., Youthpower, Inc. is presenting "Fashionpower", an array of back-to-school clothes and sportswear for teens. Both girls and boys will participate in "Fashionpower" which will be coordinated by Ms. Sue Barros. It is an outgrowth of the successful clinic which Ms. Barros presented on preparing young people for job interviews.

Co-chairmen of this Youthpower event to be held at the YWCA are Susan Silva and Lisa Morrell. Before the fashion show, there will be entertainment and refreshments. A small admission fee will be charged.
